Sold by Druggists, 75c. DAW to assert itself in the way of increased confidence in the general business situation.

Speculation is held in repression by the fear of a tight money market. The fact that money is in more active demand at higher rates is of itself one of the encouraging signs of an improved and improving situation. Cheap money means hesitation and inertia in business, while active money means that commodities, including the crops, are changing hands. A great deal of money is needed to move the crops thus far harvested, especially the wheat, and it is going into the country to an extent not known for months past. With this money the farmers will pay more or less of their debits to the country merchants

THE PEABODY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

That is be Held Here in September-Emi-neat instructors to be Present. At the July meeting of the Board of Education Superintendent Anderson was authorized to arrange for holding a Pea body Teachers Institute in this city dur-ing the first week of September. Herctofore these Institutes have been held during Thanksgiving week, and the attendance and results have not always been as satisfactory as they might be, for the reason that it being a holiday season the teachers did not appear to take the same interest that they probably would at some other time, and then the Thanksgiving leasting and festivities have had giving feasting and festivities have had a tendency to cause bad breaks in the Judge Fleming's Majority.

For the first time since his nomination by the Democratic convention Judge Fleming has a majority for Governor of of West Virginia. He went before the people, and they refused to give him a majority. The Democratic State Committee took him before a committee of the Legislature, and after some very bold work that committee has presented him with a majority small to begin with but having within itself the elements of growth.

Under the tender fostering care of Democratic investigators, backed by the Democratic strength in the Legislature, Flee at Taylorstown.

About 7 o'clock Wednesday morning the large boiler house of Caldwell & Marsh, at Taylorstown, was totally destroyed by fire. Zeb Davidson, who slept in it, lost all his clothing and effects. The boiler exploded. This place is situated about twenty feet from where the "Red Bat" shanty was destroyed in February last, when the proprietor lost all his clothing, watch and everything else that was in the shanty. How the boiler house was then saved was a wonder. How Wednesday morning's fire originated is a mystery. There was no insurance on the property. Fire at Taylorstown

Judge Fleming.

Judge Fleming.

Parkersburg State Journal.

Of course Fleming will be given a "handsome plurality" by the committee. The people gave a plurality of more than one hundred to General Goff, but if it had been five hundred the contest would have been made just the same and with the same result. Judge Fleming used to be considered an upright judge, an honest man and a high-toned, clean-handed gentleman. He has proved himself to be none of these, but only a very weak vessel in the hands of very desperate political managers.
